LIFE OF LOCAL SPORTS.

Coming Attractions in the Field and Water.

Since it has been definitely settled, with forfeit money of $50 put up with the BULLETIN, that the long talked-of boat race between the Healanis and the Myrtles was to take place on Oct. 7th, there has been considerable talk among the local boatmen. Messrs. A. W. Carter and A. G. M. Robertson, who returned from the States lately, were active members of the Myrtle Boat Club previously and pulled in many a winning crew. As it has been rumored that both will enter the Myrtle's boat in the coming race, it has made quite a stir in the Healanis club. Both are good oarsmen, Carter's usual position being stroke. The Myrtles take a spin in the harbor every evening, but they have not as yet gone into active training. They have a much stronger crew than last year and the Healanis, the present champions, will have to look to their laurels if they wish to maintain their present position.

The Healanis Boat Club, or the boys of the royal blue as they are dubbed, will enter the same crew as last year with the exception of H. J. Gallagher, E. Holt taking his place. They will pull in the same boat, the "Carl W.", and although not exactly confident, the blues are of the opinion that the Myrtles will have to pull, and might hard too to win. The Healanis also take daily spins in the harbor. The latest spin of the penant will take place when the Peninsula comes at Pearl City.

The wrestling championship was won by James Spencer about three weeks ago at the armory, he being awarded the medal emblematic of the title. Nothing has been heard since of Prof. Loheide's athletic school of culture, and it is believed that the club has gone to the wall, as every other athletic school has done here. One of the subjects of instruction at Loheide's school was club swinging. Looking to the advancement of the club, John Tuney, of the U. S. S. Boston, has started a class in club swinging, and has already ten members in course of training, among them being Jas. Spencer, stroke oar of the Healanis crew. Tuney gave an exhibition in club swinging at the armory at the late entertainment, and some of those present were so taken up with his swinging that they requested him to form a class.

With the exception of a practice game of cricket there will be no athletic attraction on Saturday afternoon. The week following, however, there will be two attractions, the football game and the foot race between the "blooms." There will be an annexationist and a royalist in the race. The U. S. flag ship's band will be in attendance to "whoop her up."

The Amateur League will open the season on the Saturday following the football match, the Planets and Healanis crossing bats in the initial match.

Mr. Gardner, who has an average score record in New Zealand as a cricketer, and was captain of the Auckland club, arrived in town lately, and will give the local team a few pointers. The New Zealander has been on the grounds at practice several times.

The committee appointed by the Pacific Wheelmen to negotiate for the construction of a race track will meet in two or three days. It has been decided to build the track in town and not at Pearl City, a number of the cyclists being unable to go down there.

CAPTAIN GOOD'S VICTIM.

Leialoha Receives a Donation After Seven Months' Waiting.

On the afternoon of Jan. 17th a police officer named Leialoha was shot by Mr. Good, now Captain in the P. G. army, while in the execution of his duty on Fort street. Leialoha intercepted Good and the latter shot the officer in the shoulder. In consequence of his injuries Leialoha was laid up in the Queen's hospital nearly three months. A few days after entering the hospital a letter of condolence was sent Leialoha with a subscription of $200. It appears, however, that the donation was only on paper.

Leialoha recovered from his injuries and came out as well as ever one Saturday two months ago. On the Monday following his release he went to see President Dole in connection with the $200, thinking that perhaps Mr. Dole had the money awaiting his call. Mr. Dole told the officer that he did not have the money then, and asked him to wait. A week or two subsequently Leialoha made another call on the president, but was unsuccessful as at the first. In addition to being told that the money was not ready for him, Leialoha was told not to come any more until he was sent for. It was very natural that the man should be anxious for the $200, as there was such a "blow" about it when the latter was sent to the hospital. At the time, the subscription was regarded as a charitable donation, and ample compensation for injuries inflicted by a man who at the time was a rebel against the constituted government. Leialoha gave up all hope of getting the money. He was agreeably surprised, however, when Councillor Emmelholtz called him into his store on Nuuanu street on Thursday last and handed to him the two hundred dollars. It was not unacceptable even after the long waiting of over six months upon the generosity of the party that claims to own nine-tenths of the Hawaiian earth.

Mr. H. J. Mayers, of Oakland, Md., says: "I have sold thirteen bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to-day and am literally sold out. This is the largest sale on record of any one preparation in a day over our counters. It gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine we handle, and as a seller it leads all other preparations on this market." For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

MUSICAL AND SOCIAL.

Pleasant Entertainment by St. Andrew's Church Association.

St. Andrew's Cathedral schoolroom was filled by old and young people last night. The occasion was the monthly meeting and social of St. Andrew's Church Association. Captain H. W. Mist, R.N., president, was in the chair, and Mr. W. L. Stanley, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. Then the president, without further preliminary began calling off the program.

A piano and organ duet by Messrs. F. M. Wakefield and Wray Taylor was well played. It was the intermezzo in Cavalleria Rusticana, which has been a great orchestral hit abroad. The glee club lately organized in connection with the Association sang the "Song of the Triton" in fine style. Mr. Wakefield, leader, playing the piano accompaniment.

Mrs. Muller sang, "Can you then love another?" Miss von Holt being accompanied. It was a long selection, but the singer sustained clear notes throughout. Mrs. Muller is a recent valuable addition to the musical talent of Honolulu. Messrs. Taylor and Wakefield next gave a duet on the violinello and piano, the selection being a cavatine by Fritzenhagen. It was delightfully rendered.

Mrs. E. D. Tenney won a hearty encore by her singing of "Love's Sorrow," and responded with, "Tis all that I can say." Then the glee club concluded the musical part with "Fleur de Lis." Mr. Wakefield again at the piano. It is learned that the glee club has come to stay—a while at least—and the public has reason to joyfully look forward to its appearances. Mr. Wakefield has proved himself to be a successful leader, by whose aid musical interests here will surely be promoted.

After music came refreshments and social conversation. Ice cream and sherberts with cake were passed around by the refreshment committee. For those desiring extra comfort and tete-a-tete groups, there were small tables covered with snowy linen disposed about the room. Besides local guests and members of the Association, there were present Rev. Dr. Wakefield, rector of Trinity Church, San Jose, Cal., Miss Wakefield, and Mr. J. B. Alexander of Kauai.

Pay the Man.

Gus Johnson, a member of the U. S. flag ship band, was kept on board the U. S. cruiser Boston one month for breaking his liberty. Yesterday afternoon before the cruiser left Johnson was allowed on shore. Now Johnson says there are a number of people in town who owe him some money, and he would like very much if they came up with the "spenduliks."

Raised from the Dead

Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning

Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 75 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla."

Hood's Sarsaparilla and am now a well woman. I weigh 125 lbs., eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

LUCOL!

WHAT IS IT?

LUCOL

IS A

PAINT

make from an artificially produced GUM almost as elastic as INDIA RUBBER, which, when reduced by certain volatile solvents to the consistency of an oil, can be mixed with all pigments, and used in the same manner as linseed oil.

It resists water, acids, alkalis, heat and cold and atmospheric influences. It lasts longer, gives a richer gloss, covers better and makes pigments more brilliant than the purest and best linseed oil.

It possesses the remarkable property of "covering" with much less pigment than any other oil. It also mixes in larger proportions with varnishes and improves their working, lasting and wearing properties.

From the Manager of Paauhau Plantation Co., Hamakua, Hawaii.

WM. LETTS OLIVER, Esq., Manager American Lucol Co., San Francisco.

Dear Sir:—

A year ago I used some of the oil manufactured by your Company to paint one of our plantation buildings, at the same time painting adjoining buildings with paints mixed with American and English Linseed oil. The paint was mixed and applied by a competent workman.

The building painted with Lucol Oil retains its original appearance, while those on which Linseed Oil was used faded some time ago, the paint becoming chalky. As this plantation is on the weather side of the island, and the climate exceptionally trying on paint, I consider the above to be as thorough a test as any to which your oil can be subjected, its superiority being so apparent I take pleasure in recommending the Lucol Oil to all users of Paints.

Yours very Respectfully,

September 5, 1892.
